

Forestry Works Manager Awareness

At a glance...

Customised Provision

Delivery Method: Classroom

Introduction

Provides learners with a general oversight and awareness of the responsibilities of a Forest Works Manager.

Overview in brief

The FWM, or Forest Works Manager, is the person or organisation who commissions the work on a forestry site.

This one day course is designed for Forest Works Managers, Site Supervisors, Team Leaders and those managing forestry operations. This course will provide a general oversight and awareness of the responsibilities of a Forest Works Manager.

Who should attend?

- Existing Forestry Works Managers
- Site Supervisors
- Team Leaders
- Managers within Forestry
- Forestry contractors wishing to understand their responsibilities on site

What will be covered?

- Understanding the role of the Forest Works Manager
- Oversight of the Health and Safety at Work Act, and the legal Responsibilities of an FWM
- Understanding Hazards, Risks and Controls

- Commissioning competent contractors, planning and managing the work
- Supervision of health, safety and welfare and environmental standards on a worksite.
- Promotion of a “safety first” culture; incident, accident and near misses

