Introduction

The objective of this training course is to enhance your skills and knowledge in building foundations and progression in Scent Detection. You will learn techniques for kong detection, catnip search and retrieve, scent match, and Trail with an ID.

Overview in brief

By completing this course, you will be equipped to advance through league one and effectively teach your clients in a fun and supportive environment. Additionally, you will gain the ability to assess your clients' progress, enabling them to earn awards and celebrate their achievements. This comprehensive training program will empower you to excel in the field of Scent Detection and provide valuable guidance to your clients.

The finer details

The course begins with a Zoom presentation introducing our organisation and teaching philosophy. On the first day of the in-person course, we will explore topics such as how dogs learn, their scent processing abilities, and providing feedback and coaching to handlers. We will then proceed to train the four key components of UK Scent Sports. All necessary equipment will be provided, and you only need to bring your dog and lots of treats.

Who should attend?

This course is aimed at Dog trainers, who currently teach Scent Detection and mantrailing or tracking, but are looking to expand their knowledge and add fun things to their classes and become part of a bigger UK based company that offers assessments and support.
